

SOMETHING TO BELIEVE

give me some heart give me some soul that's all that i was asking but you left me standing in the cold take away your silence take away your mystery you can take away your damned indifference there's nothing there that i need i need

something that i can believe

ooh

someone who won't deceive me into thinking that all hope of love is gone

give me love

give me light

give me music

give me truth and

give me heaven

give me something to believe in

don't want no dirty money and don't give me funny faces when i tell you that i'm not amused by the way you have betrayed Oh, yeah - that's ok i suppose that i played along but i should have known better and now i know better and i'm not playing anymore

i need connection, not redemption - want to feel it in my soul - i need it don't need nobody else to try and take control - don't want it don't want somebody else to save me or be saved - i don't need it don't wanna be somebody's master or a slave And if i'm alone turn out the light when you close the door... or give me the light.

something to believe in

(leave last one off)
